“ Danny was one of a kind, and was always willing to share his knowledge and help a person tackle very complicated issues. I just heard about this today (05/07/02019) and I will truly miss him and his laugh. He could talk to anyone at any level, from the local desktop support to the CEO of any company. I worked with him at Sprint PCS for a couple of years and moved into an apartment complex next door to his apartment complex. We spent some good times together. He will be missed, I was just thinking about him a couple of days ago.
