Lynnea was employed as a graphic artist at Ladow and Spohn until having a stroke in 1996 which left her paralyzed on her left side.

Lynnea enjoyed making and collecting pottery, tending to her flowers on her patio and caring for her pets. She was known for her Christmas care packages of fudge and homemade candy all made using one hand. She battled numerous illnesses and physical challenges but continued to live life to the fullest.

“ You are free now to fly with the angels Lynnea. You were so gracious to me when I saw you a few years ago at one of the Saturday get together's with your classmates of 1966. I'm the kid sister of Brenda Schweda Naylor and had not seen you in many many years. With all of the restrictions your body had , you had a smile on your face when you saw me and asked me how I was doing and good to see you. YOU asked me how I was! God bless you Lynnea. Now you can run with your family and know you are truly free. It was a pleasure to see you.

“ My heartfelt condolences to Linnea's Family and Friends. I was so sorry to see this! I am the one that gave them their white cat they loved so much many years ago. I found him in a Cobalt Boat under a tarp one very cold day in January that had been sent in to redo the upholstery, I heard this tiny mew, not even a meow he was so cold and hungry!! As I already had a cat at home who didn't take well to the newcomer, Linnea said yes, and what a great home they gave him. I will miss her very much! 😭
