“ We had so much fun growing up together. When you would come stay at our house for a week in the summer and we would play dolls and lay in bed at night and giggle until we woke up the whole house and we would hear dad call up the stairs for us to settle down and get to sleep. Then when we got older you would come stay and we would walk all the way to the South end of Ottawa to go to the fair together and hear the boys drive by us and whistle. Then we would blush and giggle some more. I will never forget you. I will always love you. One day I will see you again and once again we will walk together and giggle. A piece of heart has gone with you. You have been having a wonderful family reunion where you are! I will join you all one day and where we will be we will never have another tear or loss of a love one again. We will forever be young and happy. Remember when Grandpa Barnes used to call us peanuts and popcorn? I was always jealous that you got to be peanut. Miss you, Pam. Love you always.
