January 18, 1943 - October 9, 2019

She loved spending time with her family, and recently took a trip to Alaska with one of her grandchildren. Sheila didn't attend a specific church, but her Christian faith was unmistakable.

“ I feel bad that just now I found out about Sheila's passing. We became friends through Facebook and spent many hours and late nights chatting. A delightful and independent woman with a lot of compassion.

Her and I had a lot in common in regards to our love of early American furniture. She is the only person I know who has an identical rocking chair as mine complete with carved feet on the rockers.

Will miss you Sheila but think of you caring for all of the fur babies in Heaven.

Not goodbye, but see you later.....

“ Sheila was beautiful inside and out, very kind and welcoming (although...not so much to "country critters" that often paid her and her fur babies an unwelcome "visit"), and had a sense of humor that was out of this world!. I have referred to her as my best buddy since we met and became friends 25 years ago at work, and I'll never forget the laughs we would share whenever we met for lunch or dinner over the years. Sheila will forever have a special place in my heart, and will be very sorely missed...until we meet again.

I love you, Buddy!
