“ Bill Carl was a terrific teacher, friend and mentor, who cared for each student. I remember our Junior High young, kind, fantastic 9th grade teacher, and we were the first class he taught after coming to Chanute. I felt lucky to have had him as a teacher and friend, and it's hard to convey the loss I feel. Bless each of you, and thanks for sharing Bill with all his students. My prayers and thoughts are with your entire family. R I P dear Bill.

“What a legacy of memories this man has left. I would dare say that thousands of people view him as their "own" favorite teacher! I know he sure was one of mine! I always laugh when I think of how he would always say to me, "Oliphant, move your big hair so other people can get the fan..." those were the days before air conditioning. He always encouraged his students to do what interested them and he was the only teacher I ever had that made history interesting.....What a lovely human being, Thank you Mr. Carl for all the great memories!

“As one of the students that Mr. Carl impacted over the years, I say thank you. When I became a teacher myself, he was one of the myriad of excellent role models I had encountered in the Chanute school system. Strangely, my most vivid memory today is his warning the class about brown recluse spiders. And it seems like he showed us a scar he had from a serious bite. Talk about personalizing the instruction!

Peace to the family.

“ I worked with Bill for almost 20 years and have fond memories about our time together at CHS. Bill was a special teacher who was well liked by his students and staff. I have not seen Bill in a while but the last time I ran into him I was greeted with "How are you getting along Kiddo" . A true greeting from Bill. A greeting, at CHS and anywhere I would see him. I truly will miss Bill. God Bless Bill, Nancy and his family.

“Uncle Bill was an inspiration, not only in my career as a teacher, but in life itself. I had him for Sociology in Jr. college, and from that time on I loved Sociology and Psychology. He inspired me to go into teaching. I worked with Special Ed students for 35 years and never regretted it for a moment!

He was also a "fun" person. I loved his sense of humor! He was my favorite role model. I always listened when he spoke because it always had meaning. He was an inspiration, fun, and married a good woman. He will be missed.

“What wonderful memories of "Mr Carl" I shall cherish. The best still has to be his FIRST day as a teacher in Chanute, at Royster Junior High. All of the "young lasses" in school had gotten advance notice of the "young, good-looking" new teacher and they were ALL down front that morning, anxiously awaiting his arrival. And soon here he came with his beloved Nancy of course. And when he stepped out of the car, I think half those girls almost fainted!!! I know one for fact, to this day, 59 years later, still asks about him every time we meet for reunions etc. Nancy must have wondered what was going on that morning. I went on to have Mr. Carl as my Social Living teacher at Royster---one of the best ever, bar none. And he had one other great attribute I learned in later years---he was a fellow alum of Pitt State(then Kansas State College)--a Gorilla. RIP Mr. Carl, you are in the best of hands now for sure.

“Mr. Carl. He not only "taught" World History, he brought that history to life. He put you right there. Never had a history class anywhere else as interesting as his. He made learning and understanding history easy. Thanks, Mr. C. Rest in Peace.

“Like most kids who went to CHS at the same time I did, Mr. Carl was my favorite teacher. He treated all students with respect, which caused us to respect him.

He was also my friend, Steve's, dad. He taught me how to fly fish at Bennett Spring. He made me my first fly rod. On the way home from our first fly fishing trip, he told me we were going to stop at a little cafe that made great fried mushrooms. I was terrified, because I had thought that I hated mushrooms (although I'd had never actually tried them!) I couldn't bring myself to let Mr. Carl down by saying I didn't like them, so I went ahead and ate one. Discovered that I loved mushrooms!

I learned many things from Mr. Carl. I'm a teacher now, and I have always tried to follow his example of earning students' respect by first respecting them.

He taught me that history was interesting. He taught me that fly fishing is a lot of fun. And he taught me that mushrooms are delicious!

Bill and I worked together at CHS for almost 20 years. Bill was a friend to his students and faculty. I have not seen Bill for some time, but the last time I ran into him he asked "How are you doing Kiddo". Of course this was his favorite greeting.

May God bless Nancy and their children during this emotional time.
